For Immediate Release:

Ascent Construction Inc. Receives two Prestigious Awards from Intermountain Contractor's Best of 2009 Awards Program

Intermountain Contractor recently announced the winners of their Best of 2009 awards program recognizing the "best of the best" construction projects in the state.

Ascent Construction, Inc. with headquarters in Centerville, Utah, won two prestigious awards for the following projects:

- Emigration Fire Station No. 119, Best of 2009, (Government/Public Category)
- Tooele County Emergency Operations Center, Best of 2009, (Small project Construction Category)

There were a total of 110 submissions this year and 39 awards—17 Merit Awards and 19 Best of 2009 awards.

"We were excited to receive the news," said Bob Murri, Director of Marketing for Ascent Construction. "We submitted applications for three projects we completed this past year and are happy to be receiving these prestigious awards for two of the three."

The Intermountain Contractor selection committee awarded projects based on their complexity, innovation, quality, contribution to the community and aesthetics. The entries were sorted by project type. Each category has one "Best of 2009" award winner and one or more "Awards of Merit." Winners will be automatically entered into the National Best of 2009 awards competition and will be judged against winning entries from other regions. Winners of the National Best of 2009 Awards will be profiled in a national supplement publication that will run in Engineering News-Record and 11 Regional Publications reaching more than 150,000 design and construction professionals.

Ascent Construction, Inc. and other award-winning contractors will be honored at a special awards breakfast at the Grand America Hotel in Salt Lake City on December 8, 2009.
